Re: Luxfer Acquires Structural Composites Industries

Dear Worthington/SCI Customer:

I wanted to welcome you to the Luxfer Gas Cylinders customer family!

We here at Luxfer are extremely excited by our recently announced acquisition of Structural Composites Industries (SCI) – including its manufacturing facilities in Pomona, California – and I wanted to make sure that you, too, understand the many benefits this combined entity brings to you as a customer, namely:

- Expanded Breadth of Offering – As the world’s largest manufacturer of aluminum and carbon composite cylinders, with over 70M Luxfer cylinders in use worldwide, you now have even more choices and options in several key markets including alternative fuels, aerospace, life support, medical and others.
- Proven History of Innovation, Success and Safety – Since its founding in 1897, Luxfer has established itself as a brand known for its quality, reliability, innovation and unmatched safety record. As we transition SCI to the Luxfer brand, you can expect this same focus across our entire product portfolio.
- Global Presence – The addition of SCI’s Pomona facility brings the total number of Luxfer global manufacturing locations to six (three in the USA, one in Canada, one in the UK and one in China). This expanded production footprint and associated capacity increase coupled with a global sales team will ensure Luxfer is well-positioned to support your long-term and global growth efforts.
- Commitment to Customers – “Customer First” is one of Luxfer’s core values and a foundation for our success thus far. We will be incorporating the best practices from both companies to provide you with the highest levels of service/support, product leadership, quality and safety that you expect from the market leader. In fact, we measure this success through our Customer Charter and remain committed to delivering total customer satisfaction to improve your business experience with Luxfer.

Welcome again to the Luxfer family. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely,

Rob DuPuis
